Open Letter
Amicus curiæ
24th April 2014

Dear George W. Bush,

In the name of the One that lives in all men, women and children, greeting!

10 Courtesy copy of our letter to Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu of Israel follows, together with a copy of our letter to Dr. Eric Schmidt of Google and a cover letter to Prime Minister David Cameron of 'Great Britain'. Additional pertinent letters follow.

15 Your Excellency is the child of the Divine Mother, Mahakali, YHVH in Her Active form and Her grace upon thee at this hour is written in the bedrock of heaven which can be seen by those whose competence it is. It is by Her grace that the Holy Bible revealed itself through Laura Bush. It can be seen that Your Excellency *playfully*¹ fulfilled the wishes of *Mahakali*² revealed anew by the prophet Swami Vivekananda which are also testified in the Revelation of Saint John the Devine.

20 Even as President Putin has taken steps³, Your Excellency's father took steps when he was Director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) to ensure that the "animal spirits"⁴ of Europe would not draw America into a Third World War and overrun his country. George Bush Center for National Intelligence is CIA headquarters, clearly marking the legacy of Your Excellency's father to Your Excellency.

Shiva, YHVH in His aspect as the transcendent Brahman, Ground of Being, hunts these ghouls of Hades with the Trident of Wisdom. Shiva - Mahakali are two 'views' of the Almighty One, expressed in the picture language of priests of Ancient India.

25 The purpose of this letter, which assists Pope Francis with the dissolution of the 'United States' corporation can be summarised as the return of the all-grown-up lion king of America. We have read that the Director of National Intelligence is all in a twist⁵ about secrecy and 'National Security'.

30 Call up Skippy, "Hello, Central?, clap your hands, call in all the sheep-dogs. If they don't listen, I'll blow the Lion-Whistle. I've got a word or two for the wolves who have taken over". We are sure that the wolves will understand the diplomatic language of New Land.

We have suggested a non-territorial model of governance. There will always be 'politics' in the border-less Church. A new politics must be reborn out of the ashes of the dissolution of Parliaments and Congresses. There are playful jokes of Mahakali in the works of lawyers and spooks. The men and

1 This is the mark of grace, which must have caused endless grief to the "grown ups" around Your Excellency.

2 See quotation from the biography of Swami Vivekananda in lines 153 – 215 in our Amicus curiæ to Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu of Israel.

3 Common people cannot imagine the worse outcomes, the "unknown unknowns" that have been prevented, knowing even the basic gist of the known knowns covered by this Court of Record. A view of the past few hundred years of history alone would lead a thinking man to depressing conclusions.

35 women of England have to choose between the Conservatives who sport the Green Tree⁶ (*Greenbaum*⁷ in German) and the New Labour Arbiet Macht Frei party. The UK Parliament and political parties as devices for the expression of the will of the English people are doomed, long before the next election. Nothing further needs to be said of the US or EU politicians.

40 We can imagine old English 'Christian' Lawyers snickering in heaven over the living dead, those who walk around as the Chief Hangman Officer of various corporations. They knew that the Germans and Frenchmen would kill each other for several generations as a result of Oujia board room and corporate-republic battles, letting English lawyers become trustees of all real assets in 'offshore' corporations.

45 The current crop of happy and gay wolves in sheep clothing who inhabit the court rooms of corporate administrative courts in the US/UK/EU/etc., might need a Lion growl or two in the New Land English dialect. Unfortunately, Rt. Hon. David Cameron has a case of sore throat, and meows at his mate Rt. Hon. Chris Grayling, Lord Chancellor, who has gone all spotty⁸ with his new tie.

50 The honour of a True Man is more precious than his very life. The impossible to pay debts of so many households are sapping the prana or life-blood from the lives of so many men and women – so many have committed suicide. A Lion-man is needed to make the announcement of debt-relief and the dissolution of the Federal Reserve.

Your Excellency knows well the difficulty of the hatred of those fellow men who hate their leaders without comprehension of the service rendered to save them from themselves. This is the mark of a true king, one who has demonstrates self-discipline in his service to all, maintaining poise in response to praise and to blame. It is by contemplation of the cross of our LORD, that this poise is maintained.

55 We invite Your Excellency to visit Pope Francis to get His Holiness' blessings. With that secured, we invite Your Excellency and Your Excellency's family to come visit ours. There is much to say, much of which is best face to face.

We have often invited Pope Francis, perhaps this is the occasion for such a visit together.

60 Your Excellency has recently made a remark about President's libraries. We would suggest reading *A Search in Secret India*⁹ as an introduction to the *Notebooks of Paul Brunton*¹⁰. Paul Brunton, an Englishman, visited India, in 1931, where he recorded this interview with a Pontiff of the Shankara Order:

"When do you think that the political and economic conditions everywhere will begin to improve?"

"A change for the better is not easy to come by quickly," he replies. "It is a process which must needs take some time."

65 "How can things improve when the nations spend more each year on the weapons of death?"

"There is nevertheless much talk of disarmament to-day. Does that count?"

"If you scrap your battleships and let your cannons rust, that will not stop war. People will continue to fight, even if they have to use sticks!"

"But what can be done to help matters?"

70 "Nothing but spiritual understanding between one nation and another, and between rich and poor, will produce goodwill and thus bring real peace and prosperity."

"That seems far off. Our outlook is hardly cheerful, then?"

His Holiness rests his arm a little more heavily upon his staff.

"There is still God," he remarks gently.

75 "If there is, He seems very far away," I boldly protest.
"God has nothing but love towards mankind," comes the soft answer.
"Judging by the unhappiness and wretchedness which afflict the world to-day, He has nothing but indifference," I break out impulsively, unable to keep the bitter force of irony out of my voice. His Holiness looks at me strangely. Immediately I regret my hasty words.

80 "The eyes of a patient man see deeper. God will use human instruments to adjust matters at the appointed hour. The turmoil among nations, the moral wickedness among people and the suffering of miserable millions will provoke, as a re-action, some great divinely inspired man to come to the rescue. In this sense, every century has its own saviour. The process works like a law of physics. The greater the wretchedness caused by spiritual ignorance, materialism, the greater will be the man

85 who will arise to help the world."
"Then do you expect someone to arise in our time, too?"
"In our century," he corrects. "Assuredly. The need of the world is so great and its spiritual darkness is so thick, that an inspired man of God will surely arise."
"Is it your opinion, then, that men are becoming more degraded?" I query.

90 "No, I do not think so," he replied tolerantly. "There is an indwelling divine soul in man which, in the end, must bring him back to God."
"But there are ruffians in our Western cities who behave as though there were indwelling demons in them," I counter, thinking of the modern gangster.
"Do not blame people so much as the environments into which they are born. Their surroundings and circumstances force them to become worse than they really are. That is true of both the East and West. Society must be brought into tune with a higher note. Materialism must be balanced by idealism; there is no other real cure for the world's difficulties. The troubles into which countries are everywhere being plunged are really the agonies which will force this change, just as failure is frequently a sign-post pointing to another road."

95 "You would like people to introduce spiritual principles into their worldly dealings, then?"
"Quite so. It is not impracticable, because it is the only way to bring about results which will satisfy everyone in the end, and which will not speedily disappear. And if there were more men who had found spiritual light in the world, it would spread more quickly. India, to its honour, supports and respects its spiritual men, though less so than in former times. If all the world were to do the same, and to take its guidance from men of spiritual vision, then all the world would soon find peace and grow prosperous."

100 "Our conversation trails on. I am quick to notice that Shri Shankara does not decry the West in order to exalt the East, as so many in his land do. He admits that each half of the globe possesses its own set of virtues and vices, and that in this way they are roughly equal! He hopes that a wiser

105 generation will fuse the best points of Asiatic and European civilizations into a higher and balanced social scheme.

115 We pray to our LORD Jesus Christ, non-dual with Mahakali and Shiva, YHVH Ground of Being in both active and immanent aspect, symbolised by the playful Child Jesus on Mother Mary's lap, to send the peace of the Holy Spirit to Your Excellency and family that Your Excellency go forth with the irresistible strength of a Lion.

Yours faithfully,
